

THE SUD DIRECT.

Our new columns give the full text of President Hayes' message vetoing the silver bill. The message was sent to the House yesterday, and under the operations of the previous question the bill was passed over the veto by a vote of 136 to 73. The bill was immediately sent to the Senate where it was also passed without discussion by a vote of 16 to 19.

This action of the two houses, in passing an important bill over the president's veto without even the courtesy of having the communication printed as altogether unprecedented, so far as our information goes, but while it may be regarded as almost an insult by the president, the people of the country will hardly waste much sympathy over him. They will not trouble themselves as much to discuss the proprieties in case in which one man sets himself up as the sole representative and guardian of the national integrity, in opposition to the will of the people over whom he is elected, as they will to discuss the proprieties in case in which one man sets himself up as the sole representative and guardian of the national integrity, in opposition to the will of the people over whom he is elected.

The people will look with joy at the settlement of this question. While it was pending all other considerations were hushed, and now that it is decided Congress can address itself to other and important legislation. The people have triumphed, the right has prevailed, let it all rejoice.

KANSAS. We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. George Stone, dated at Ellis, Kan. Feb. 25th. Mr. Stone says the country he has passed through is very fine, the wheat fields have gone out under 3000 acres and the crops are good. He says there is no more of Ellis, and he feels like staying there for a while.

The trouble that in which the Chicago city government finds itself has resulted in the proposal of some very novel means of raising money. Among these is the suggestion of the Chicago Tribune that the Moffett bell punch be introduced into the saloons, which now pay a license of only $25 per year the estimate being that this method would increase the revenue of the city from this source to the extent of about $1,700,000 per year. The proposition is that beer saloons shall pay half a cent, and dispensers of benzene and other like powerful light producers, one cent, for every drink recorded by the bell punch. The experience of the state of Virginia, where the system originated, is referred to in proof of the practicability of the scheme, and the Chicago Tribune says if men are fools enough to guzzle beer and whiskey they might as well pay into the city treasury a slight penalty in advance for their indiscretion and its probable results. The saloon-keepers, however, almost without exception fly out in opposition to the proposed new departure, one of their objections being that the additional tax would compel them either to raise the price of drinks or to sell at a loss. The latter, they insist, would be a great calamity. Verily there is a humorous element in the controversy.

STARTLING NEWS.

This Clinton correspondent of the Bloomington Evening Post writes as follows:

Ed. Hunt, the great stock man of the West, received a telegram from their son in Texas, announcing that a band of Mexicans and border Indians had made a raid upon their premises, driving off 15,000 head of cattle and killing two of his brothers, who were his partners, and putting to it the balance of the men employed in tending the cattle. Ed. Hunt, who is the best man for the time of the trouble, is it is true, the loss to Harold Hunt will be about $100,000, unless they should recover some of the lost stock. The cattle were nearly ready for market at the time of the raid.

Mr. Hunt will be remembered as one of the Republican candidates for representative in this district in 1874, and is well known to many of our people.

Something About Shoddy Goods. As all accounts agree that there has been an unusual demand for cheaply made or shoddy goods, it is a very short sighted policy for people to buy goods that are ticked off for deception and have no value to them. NINE STRONG PORTS.

The Indianapolis Journal prints the following strong points against the democratic party, which may prove of interest to the people generally:

1. The democratic party inaugurated a rebellion which cost the nation over eight billion of dollars, and which left the country under a debt of nearly three billions of dollars. To pay the interest on this is impoverishing the people.

2. The democratic party inaugurated and maintained a guerrilla warfare upon the union men and freedmen of the south, which was continued for ten years and cost the government five hundred millions of dollars. To pay the interest on this is impoverishing the people.

3. The democratic party in 1875 cut off all appropriations for the completion of public buildings, for public works of all kinds, and for works in ship yards. The action threw thousands of laboring men out of employment, and reduced their families to poverty and want.

4. The democratic party denounced the greenbacks as worthless from the time of their first issue until after the close of the war, and then undertook to render them worthless in the hands of the people by demanding an unlimited issue. By a persistent agitation of financial questions, in and out of congress, the party has so paralyzed the industries of the country as to bring thousands of families to want and suffering.

5. The democratic party, by attempting to exalt Samuel J. Tilden to the presidency through fraud and violence, came near producing a second revolution, and by the continual agitation of that question it has kept the public mind in a feverish, unsettled condition which has added largely to the business depression and to the want and destitution of the people.

6. The democratic party by its encouragement of the strikes of July, 1877, whereby the great thoroughfares of commerce were blocked for nearly one month, inflicted a loss of not less than fifty millions of dollars upon farmers and business men of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys.

7. The democratic party by its present effort to array labor against capital, and to array the west against the east, has brought upon the country a condition of affairs which is more damaging to its interests than was the panic of 1873. This is now bankrupting thousands of business men throughout the country, and adding to the want and destitution of those already impoverished.

8. The democratic party has conspired to paralyze and defeat the efforts of the administration to restore the rebellious states to peaceful and prosperous relations with the union, and for political capital has instituted wicked and malicious prosecutions against the members of the returning board of Louisiana. The conduct of the party is likely to revive the guerrilla warfare which was conducted for so many years in most of the southern states.

9. Governed by the same spirit of "rule or ruin," which prompted the inauguration of the rebellion, the democratic party is openly advocating the establishment of the whipping post for the negroes of the country, and the reduction of the taxes on whisky and tobacco—staples of consumption with the members of that party.

These are a few of the leading features which embellished the history of the democratic party. How do the hard-working people of the country like the picture?

THE NOBLE OLD ROMAN.

"Napoleon's" New York Letter to Chicago Journal.

Were ex-Governor Wells, of Louisiana, able to make his appearance in New York at this time, he would receive a reception from the Republicans such as would gladden his heart indeed. We regard him as the bravest man in the state of Louisiana, whose name will be held in respect when the names of others higher in authority will have become a hissing and a byword for their pusillanimity and cowardice. He and General Anderson, two old warriors, respected, Southern-born pluckers, law in jail because they opposed secession, stood by the Union during the war, and stood by the party which saved the Union after the war! It makes one's blood fairly curdle when he recalls how these and the other Unionists of the rebellious South have been treacherously sacrificed and given over to the persecutions of those who were so recently endeavoring to break up the Government. A Louisiana man who has known ex-Governor Wells from boyhood, lately told me that he was one of the most courageous and fearless of men, who had stood very high wherever he was known in the State during the war.

Assuming that he had committed a crime, which no Republicans here believe, beyond giving the State in the Presidential election to the party which was lawfully entitled to it, Governor Wells' bold letter has elicited the admiration of Democrats as well as Republicans here. But everybody expects and believes that he will go to the State Prison, and all the other Republican leaders in Louisiana will, one after another be crushed out until the organization disbanded, as it has in Alabama and Mississippi.

EXPORTS OF PROVISIONS.

It is to be remembered that the connection between the prices of provisions and the demand for them is a very close one. The following table shows the exports of provisions from the principal ports of the West, from January, 1877, to January, 1878, as reported to the Bureau of Statistics for the last January, the exports of provisions from the principal ports are as follows: From New York, $1,131,131; from Boston, $1,178,023; from Baltimore, $572,423; and from Portland, $152,082—a total of $1,170,659 from these four ports alone. From New York the articles consisted of 1,544,878 pounds of hams and bacon, 2,074,540 pounds of fresh, and 2,576 pounds of salt beef; 4,253,450 pounds of pork; 23,774,412 pounds of lard; 4,481,016 pounds of tallow; 10,044,421 pounds of more of lard, and 2,353,230 pounds more of cheese than went to foreign countries from all ports in January of last year. We have never before had any exports of provisions so large as these.

THE NEW SCHEME.

James Gordon Bennett's latest scheme for the enlightenment of mankind and the glorification of the N. Y. Herald is an effort to find the North Pole. He proposes to pay all the expenses necessary, but asks some privileges and the general protection of our government. He has purchased a vessel in England, and expects to be ready to dispatch her to the North Pole some time during the summer. The Skua expedition in Africa, which Mr. Bennett has organized and carried forward to such successful conclusions, are proofs of his intelligent enterprise and furnish strong ground for the hope that his new project may be equally successful. At any rate, he ought to be encouraged to proceed in a matter that is of such general public interest. If he fails he bears all the consequences, if he succeeds he ought to have all the honor. In the interest of geographical science it will be a great thing if some adventurous navigator does succeed in reaching the North Pole.

A DEMOCRATIC reform measure is now pending in the House which involves the tapping of the Treasury to the amount of $9,000,000, and there is no prospect that the apostles of economy and retrenchment will be able to muster the votes requisite to pass it. Under its provisions 75,000 men of middle age, nearly all of them in comfortable circumstances, are to be added to the pension rolls because they served in the Mexican war, though but a small portion ever made gun powder or got a shot at the enemy. While this $9,000,000 grab engages the attention of the Democratic House, applications from 100,000 veterans of the Union army and their widows and orphans cannot be reached for lack of a suitable appropriation for their examination and relief.

Tortures that Need not be Endured.

People suffer a great deal of pain and suffering from rheumatism that need not be endured are those afflicted by the rheumatism and gout, since the acid element in the blood which produces them by contact with the sensitive covering of the muscles and joints may be eliminated by the use of that matchless depurative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, before the inflammatory symptoms are developed to any great extent. When it is considered what excruciating tortures rheumatism inflicts, and what a tendency it has, when fully developed, to attack the heart, the advisability of an early use of such a reliable medicine becomes at once apparent. The rheumatic virus is expelled from the system by the increased action of the kidneys, which act as a filter, producing the Bitters, and the sufferer will find, if he honestly suppresses defensive agents, that he will be protected against a return of the complaining complaint. Dyspepsia, indigestion, liver and bowel complaints and other maladies, are also cured by this admirable remedy.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature, rain, wind and moisture, often intermingled in a single day, it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken down by neglected colds, half the death resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Brother's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Rheumatism, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10¢; regular size, 75¢. Jan 20 dwt

The most pleasant and prompt Cough remedy is Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup—whenever you get it. Call on your druggist and try a bottle of it; price only 25 cents. Sold by all druggists. Feb 27 dwt

Summary Disposition of the Silver Bill.

A VETO VETTED.

THE VETO MESSAGE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—The following is the full text of the President's message:

To the House of Representatives: After very careful consideration of the bill 1,000, entitled, "An act to authorize the coinage of the silver dollar and to restore its legal tender character," I feel compelled to return it to the House of Representatives, in which it originated, with my objections to its passage, holding the opinion which I expressed in my annual message, that neither the interests of the Government, nor the people of the United States would be promoted by displacing silver as one of the two precious metals which furnish the coinage of the world, and that legislation which looks to restoring the volume of intrinsic value to as full a measure of intrinsic value as their relative commercial value will permit, would be neither unjust nor inexpedient.

It has been my earnest desire to concur with Congress in the adoption of such measures to increase the silver coinage of the country as would not impair the obligation of contracts, either public or private, or injuriously affect the public credit. It is only on the subject of this bill that I have not been so completely satisfied. I feel that it is my duty to withhold from it my approval.

My personal official duty as to that bill permits only an attention to the specific objects of the bill which it seems to me the constitution has in such way provided. The bill provides for the coinage of silver dollars of the weight of 412 grains each, of standard silver, to be a legal tender to their nominal value for all debts and duties, public and private, except where otherwise expressly stipulated in the contract. It is well known that the market value of that number of grains of standard silver, during the past year, has been from ninety to ninety-two cents, as compared with the standard gold dollar. Thus the silver dollar authorized by this bill, worth from 8 to 10 per cent, less than they purport to be worth, and made a legal tender for debts contracted when the law did not recognize such coin as lawful money, issued in sufficient amounts to circulate, put an end to the receipt of revenue in gold, and thus compel the payment of silver for both the principal and interest of the public debt. $1,131,433,400 of the bonded debt now outstanding was issued prior to February, 1873, when the silver dollar was unknown in the circulation of this country, and with only a convenient form of silver bullion for exportation. Five hundred and eighty-three million three hundred and fifty dollars of the bonded debt has been issued since February, 1873, when gold alone was the coin in which both parties to the contract understood that the bonds would be paid. Those bonds flowed into the markets of the world. They were paid for in gold when silver had greatly depreciated, and when no one would have bought them if it had been understood that silver would be the legal tender. The sum of $228,000,000 of these bonds has been sold during my administration for gold coin, and the United States has received the benefit of those sales by a reduction of the rate of interest to 4 per cent.

During the progress of those sales a doubt was suggested as to the coin in which the payment of these bonds would be made. The public announcement was thereupon authorized that it was not to be anticipated that any further legislation of Congress, or any action of any department of the Government, would sanction or tolerate the redemption of the principal of these bonds, or the payment of interest thereon, in coin other than exacted by the contract, in exchange for the same.

In view of that fact it will be justly regarded as a grave breach of the public faith to undertake to pay these bonds, principal or interest, in silver coin worth in the market less than the coin received for them.

It is said that the silver dollar made a legal tender by this bill, under its operation, would be equivalent in fact to a gold dollar. Many supporters of the bill believe this, and it is just an attempt to pay debts, either public or private, in coin of inferior value to the money of the world. The capital defect of the measure is that it contains no provision protecting from its operation pre-existing debts, in case the coinage which it creates shall continue to be of less value than that which was contracted for. It is now proposed, for the purpose of taking advantage of the depreciation of silver in payment of debts, to coin and make a legal tender, a silver dollar of less commercial value than a dollar, whether of gold or paper, which is now the lawful money of this country; such a measure, it will be hardly questioned, will, in the judgment of mankind, be an act of bad faith as to debts already contracted. The silver dollar should be made a legal tender only at its market value. The standard of value should not be changed without the consent of both parties to the contract. National promises should be kept with unflinching fidelity. There is no power to compel a nation to pay its just debts. Its credit depends on its honesty.

Owing to what the nation has led its creditors to expect, I cannot approve a bill which in my judgment authorizes the violation of sacred judgment. The obligation of public faith transcends all questions of profit or public advantage. Its unquestionable maintenance is a dictate as well of the highest expediency as of the most necessary duty, and should be carefully guarded by the Executive, by Congress, and by the people.

It is my firm conviction that if the country is to be benefited by silver coinage, it can be done only by the issue of silver dollars of full value, which will defraud no man, and a currency worth less than it purports to be, will, in the end, and not only creditors but the public at large, in legitimate business transactions, assuredly, than those who have no right in the daily labor for their daily bread.

(Signed) RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, President of the United States. EXECUTIVE MANSION, Feb. 28, 1878.

London, Feb. 28.—The House of Commons, to-night, Sir Stafford Northcote, Chancellor of the Exchequer, replying to a question, stated that the government was still uninformed of the final terms of peace, but if they injuriously affected British interests the government would take the proper course to vindicate and protect those interests. This declaration was received with loud cheers.

The Press Association says considerable uneasiness prevails relative to negotiations now proceeding between European powers and Russia. Opposition leaders in Parliament have determined not to embarrass the government while the present critical position lasts. They have been informed that it is desirable in the interests of peace, to avoid a definite ministerial statement. Russia is anxious to exact a fort on the Bosphorus, and it is rumored that England, Austria and Italy have informed Prince Gortschakoff that they would regard a persistence in this determination as a casus belli.

4:30 p. m.—Consols closed at 94 15-16. The decline is due to the expiration of the limit for covering speculative sales.

LONDON, March 1.—Morning papers abound in details of warlike preparations. Some militia colonels have been warned that their regiments may be required for permanent duty. The militia will be armed with Henry rifles immediately upon embarkment.

It is confidently stated that 15,000 troops are ready to start from Bombay at short notice.

LONDON, February 28.—A Vienna correspondent states that the Russian concession touching the limits and length of the occupation of Bulgaria are quite sufficient, with the present tending of the Austrian government, to restore confidence. Austria is content for a moment and looks to the Conference for the rest.

Another correspondent writes: "The extension of the principality of Bulgaria to the Egean Sea would practically mean the securing of a naval station for Russia, just as a grant of the Port of Montenegro would mean a Russian naval station in the Adriatic."

Still another telegrapher: "The position appears extremely critical, notwithstanding the tranquilizing utterances of the ministerial papers. The Conference is regarded in Austrian Government circles as adjourned sine die."

A Berlin dispatch says the Conference has been entirely failed.

JEFFERSON, O., February 28.—Ex-Senator B. F. Wade is still worse to day, and his chances for recovery are beyond a possibility. The Senator expresses a willingness to die, and says he would rather go now than get over this and again have to pass through such a spell of sickness. His good constitution has been the cause of his holding out as long as he has. Judging from his condition this evening, his physician says he may die before morning, and again he may hold out three or four days yet.

DANVILLE, ILL., February 28.—John H. Cantor was this evening sentenced to twenty years in the Penitentiary for the murder of Wm. Fieldman, in December last. The verdict was a surprise to everybody, even the defense expecting, it is said, nothing more than imprisonment for life. The jury were out four hours, and on the first ballot they stood nine for hanging, one for life imprisonment, and two for fifteen years. The verdict is by no means well received by the people.

WASHINGTON, February 28.—The Secretary of the Treasury has already prepared the necessary arrangements for the immediate execution of the providing for the coinage of silver dollars, so that there will be no delay whatever in its operation. The Secretary has prepared a form of silver certificate and approved a device for the new silver dollar, which was submitted to him by the Director of the Mint. The Department is therefore prepared to begin, without delay, the administration of the new law.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Gold declined 1/2 and Governments strengthened on the announcement of the President's veto, and a contrary movement occurred on the passage of the bill over the veto by the House. Change closed before the Senate's action was known.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT. We refer to that most remarkable compound, Dr. Morris' Hyrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Horsebalm, for coughs, colds, blood spitting, weak lungs, croup, whooping cough, asthma, bronchitis, and all diseases of the lungs and throat. Probably no similar preparation ever before so quickly found its way into public favor as this. Its sale in our community is simply enormous. Those who have been disappointed in other so-called remedies, are specially invited to try this. Be sure to get the genuine Dr. Morris' Hyrup of Tar, Wild Cherry and Horsebalm. There are imitations in the market. Trial size, 30 cents. Regular size, 50 cents and One Dollar. For sale by Dr. A. J. Warner Druggist, Decatur, Ill.
